Fight With Italian Laborers in Brazil
—More Battles in Central America.

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The Gazette announces that Major-General Herbert, of the Grenadier Guards, lately commander of the Canadian militia, has been created a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George.

A serious fight has occurred between Brazilians and Italians on a line of railroad in course of construction between Providence and Victoria, Brazil. A large number of Italians were killed. The encounter, it is feared, will have a very bad effect on the relations existing between Italy and the republic, which are already strained.

Guayaquil advices confirm the reports of the battle fought August 6 at San Miguel, near Chimbo, south of Guaranda. Gen. Sarasti's advance guard of over 600 troops attacked the advance guard of the patriot army, commanded by Gen. Venanza. After thirteen hours of hard fighting Sarasti's troops were routed and fled demoralized, leaving 150 men on both sides killed and wounded. Gen. Alfaro has arrived at Guayaquil, and is now facing Gen. Sarasti's army. It is understood that a decisive battle will occur August 10. Ecuador is having a national festival over Gen. Venanza's victory. Guayaquil, where the enthusiasm is increasing, has organized a reserve army of 2,000 men.

Peace has been concluded between the government of Brazil and the insurgents of the province of Rio Grande do Sul.

The Times publishes an editorial on the split in the New York police board, in which it says: "It is greatly to be feared that Colonel Grant's action will stir all the old forces of corruption and misgovernment to renewed efforts. It is only too probable that the mischief done by his indiscreet observations cannot be undone. Tammany will strain every nerve at the autumn elections and will perhaps succeed, as it has succeeded after previous disasters. Its success would be a public calamity."

It is reported that the United States government claims that Spain should pay interest on the Mora indemnity, but it is understood the Spanish government had decided to refuse the demand.

An international gathering of socialists assembled in this city to-day to attend the cremation of the remains of Frederick Engels, head of the international socialist movement, who died August 6. The ceremony, however, was postponed owing to the intervention of the coroner. Socialists of Russia, Armenia, Italy, Cologne, Frankfurt, Dresden, Bremen, Poland and Bulgaria sent wreaths. Among the mourners were Heron Singer and Liebnicht Stepiak, the nihilists; Volkovskoy, Stanislaus, Mendelson, Marie Mendelson and Polish representatives and representatives from Italian, Armenian, and various English and foreign socialist societies.

The returns of the election held in Orkney and Shetland Islands, which is the last constituency to be heard from to complete the new British parliament, have been received. The seat remains unchanged, the Liberal candidate, Sir L. Lyell, Bart., having been re-elected. The following are the returns: Sir L. Lyell, Bart., Liberal, 2,360; R. M. Fullarton, Q.C., Conservative, 1,580. Liberal majority, 780. At the last election Sir L. Lyell had a majority of 1,006 votes, showing a loss of 226 votes. The returns of this division adds one to the opposition number, which is now 260, and leaves the government a majority of 151 and the Conservatives with a majority of 11 over all.

DURRANT'S TRIAL.

An Eighth Juror Obtained—Newspapermen to Be Proceeded Against.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 10.—The eighth juror was yesterday obtained to try Theodore Durrant for murder. He is F. P. Hooper, lumber merchant, and, like all his fellow jurors, stands high in the community. One of the defendant's attorneys asked that citations be issued for the editors and city editors of the Chronicle and the Examiner. The attorney also asked for further time to prepare affidavits concerning the actions of other newspapermen who had published statements concerning jurymen which he considered contempt of court. The court stated that he would consider the matter carefully before deciding the question of issuing the citations asked for.

FRANCE IN NEWFOUNDLAND.

H.M.S. "Pelican" Causes Newfoundland Fishermen to Stop Fishing in Deference to French Claims.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 10.—Further fishery news confirms the good reports for the past few days. Intelligence from the French shore brings details of what the interested parties claim to be an outrage on British subjects by an English warship at the instigation of French fishermen. The warship Pelican forced a party of Newfoundland fishermen to leave a fishing harbor on the French shore because the French wanted it. The Newfoundlanders had to abandon the fishery altogether, and will claim indemnity from the Imperial government.

BRITAIN AND VENEZUELA.

The Status Unchanged—Rights of the Original Manoa Company Revived.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Minister Andrade, of Venezuela, has returned from Deer Park. The status of the British-Venezuela question remains unchanged. Recent advices received at the legation give the text of the official resolution by which Venezuela confirms to an American company a vast tract of land south of the Orinoco and near the scene of the British contention. The resolution sets forth that this grant was originally made to the Manoa Company of the United States, but was subsequently transferred to the Turnbull Company, in which English interests predominated, but in view of the fact that the Turnbull Company has not proceeded with the development of the concession, the resolution recited that the Turnbull grant is canceled and all the rights of the original Manoa Company are revived and renewed. This gives the new American syndicate the same terms under which the Manoa Company operated.

CABLE LETTER.

Kaiser Wilhelm at Cowes—His Wonderful Versatility and General Popularity.

Gladstone's Chester Speech Criticized—The "Times" Says it Did Not Go Beyond Facts.

(Copyrighted by Associated Press, 1895.)

LONDON, Aug. 10.—The gathering of yachts and of yachtsmen at Cowes this week has not been as large and brilliant as customary.

It is more than probable that Kaiser Wilhelm has enjoyed himself more than any dozen persons present at Cowes this week. The Imperial yacht Hohenzollern was the attraction of all, and the Emperor beaming with good health and spirits, browned by the sun and full of energy, was there, and everywhere observed by everybody and admired by even the most despicable. It is difficult to feel anything but admiration for the handsome young ruler of the German Empire, who seems to slip into different personalities with the same ease as he changes clothes. One day he is a German general, stern, finely trained, posted on all tricks of war, next day he is the German admiral, British dragon, or a British admiral, yachtsman or an engineer, boat builder or warship constructor, canal builder or song writer, author, musician, everything, but always perfect in his part. His comings and goings during the past week have been of far less formal character than those of other years, consequently His Majesty has been able to devote a great deal more time to yachting and visiting and has become more popular than ever before.

The teaparty which the Emperor gave on Thursday on board the Hohenzollern and arranged by himself, was to have been a most charming function. His Majesty invited the elite of yachting society to his "afternoon tea" on the promenade deck of the Imperial yacht, which was luxuriously carpeted for the occasion and dotted with pretty little tea tables, while the whole vessel was fragrant with the perfumes of a rich profusion of flowers, sent by Queen Victoria from Osborne. The fine bands of the Hohenzollern played only as a marine band can play and everything possible was done to make the reception a brilliant and memorable event. His Majesty personally received his guests at the Hohenzollern's gangway, and they included the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke of York, Princess Louise and Marquis of Lorne.

Mr. Gladstone's speech at Chester on Tuesday last on the Armenian question, naturally attracted considerable attention, not only in England, but throughout Europe. In many quarters it is looked upon as being a sharp slap at Lord Rosebery, the premier, and as directly supporting Salisbury in any steps the new government may take towards coercing the Porte in doing something towards reform in Armenia. On the other hand some of the London newspapers class Mr. Gladstone's utterances as being "dangerously mischievous" and likely to kindle civil war in Turkey which, according to the Post, may spread into a European conflagration, and eventually threaten India with a renewal of the horrible scenes witnessed during the Sepoy mutiny. But the Times took an entirely different aspect, remarking editorially: "We did not say a word calculated to hamper Lord Salisbury's government. His impassioned rhetoric did not go beyond facts. If the speech assists, as doubtless it will, in bringing about the desired consummation, he will be rewarded for an effort unparalleled even as a more physical achievement by a man of his age."

DEADLY CANCER CURED BY B. B. B.

Messrs. T. Milburn & Co.
SIR,—About four years ago I was taken sick with stomach trouble. I consulted several leading local physicians, all of whom pronounced my disease incurable cancer of the stomach, and told me I had not long to live. Two physicians attending me gave me up to die. Through reading your advertisement, and by advice of friends, I tried your Burdock Blood Bitters and I am happy to say that after using one bottle I was able to leave my bed which I had been confined to for a long time. I am thankful now to state that B.B.B. cured my disease which baffled the doctors, and I am firmly convinced that B.B.B. saved my life.

Gratefully yours,

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

Russia Determined Not to Hold Relations With Bulgaria Under Existing Circumstances.

Talk of Another Conference to Draw Up a Fresh Treaty—Affairs Complicating.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—In his last letter to the New York Times, Harold Frederic says: "With all the good-will in the world, Europe is not permitted to take its mind off Bulgaria. By day and by night this wretched little community sits on the Old World's chest. It will not be shaken off. The week's developments seem on the surface to have wrought a great change in the Balkan outlook. A few days ago everybody took for granted that the Czar and Prince Lobanoff had come to an explicit arrangement with the Metropolitan Clement and his Bulgarian deputation, and that Russia was prepared to resume upon her own conditions her old dominant position in the principality. Now, on the strength of a semi-official dispatch from St. Petersburg, which, of all places, appeared first in the Cologne Gazette, everybody has rushed over to the other side and regards it as settled that Russia implacably persists in her chronic refusal to have anything to do with Bulgaria at all. Nothing could better illustrate the mental confusion to which eighteen years of suspense under an annual threat of war have reduced the continental press, but the English journals have much less excuse for being so easily rattled.

The Bulgarian delegation is timed to arrive at Sofia to-day, and in the course of the public reception organized for them, it is presumed that the Metropolitan Clement or his companions will make a statement of what news they bring. This statement could have been foreshadowed weeks ago—for that matter, years ago. The Czar has never ceased to love the Bulgarians dearly, but friendly relations with them are impossible so long as they persist in supporting an illegally formed government, headed by a Prince not properly elected according to the treaty of Berlin. They may therefore make their choice; either to get on without Russian recognition as best they can, or chase out their Prince and his irregular government, throw themselves at the Czar's feet, and, under his paternal guidance, reconstruct themselves on the lines laid down by the Berlin treaty. We know so little about the actual state of feeling throughout Bulgaria that it is difficult to be sure what its answer will be. No doubt Clement, who since Stambouloff's destruction is the man who seems most clearly to know his own mind and to be likely to enforce it on the country, aims at entire submission to Russia. If we assume that he can deliver his goods, then Prince Ferdinand will not return, his ministers and administrative machinery will disappear, and a provisional regency, probably with Clement at its head, will ask Russia for a safe interpretation of its duties under the treaty of Berlin.

Having broken most sections of this famous treaty, Russia knows them intimately. Taking them as they originally stood and adding to them all the modifications in practice which the contracting parties have subsequently made to suit their own convenience, there is material enough for all the international jurists to rack their brains over. There is hardly any conceivable point on which Russia cannot spin out debate indefinitely while her adventurous advanced wing of political soldiers fish with profit in the troubled Bulgarian waters. There is naturally talk of another conference to draw up a fresh treaty, and I even hear that England has begun sounding the other powers on this subject; but the Continental courts are rather afraid of recourse to such an important step. It might go off smoothly, but the chances seem to be in the other way; and then the fat will be in the fire. Yet, without a conference it is plainly seen that Russia will go on slowly complicating affairs in the Balkans till somebody will have to object and be prepared to support the objection by a show of force. This is Europe's dilemma, not at all new, but rendered somewhat more acute now week by week.

A REPORT comes from a reliable source that some rich ledges have been struck in the vicinity of Slate Creek, Tulameen river, in the Similkameen district. Assays from the quartz taken from the Mineral King ledge, some 125 feet wide, have yielded $90 in gold per ton, and from the Big Ledge $16.50 in free gold per ton. Assays from the adjacent claims are expected shortly, when it is thought higher returns will be given. This section of the country is well known to be rich in minerals.

YESTERDAY Mr. J. C. MacLure secured possession of his two young daughters who were the cause of habeas corpus proceedings some weeks ago. In the courts here, Mrs. MacLure disappeared at the same time as the children and it was generally understood that she had taken them out of the jurisdiction of the court. All efforts failed to discover their whereabouts, so that it was impossible to serve the habeas corpus papers on the mother. Finally Mr. MacLure went over to the Sound in search of the missing ones, and on Friday Mrs. MacLure and the children came back to the city from Port Townsend. She was tired of hiding and resolved to fight the matter out in the courts. Mr. MacLure returned yesterday and secured legal possession of his children. There is some hope that the whole matter will be amicably settled.

NEWS OF THE PROVINCE.

Vancouver Wants a New Chief of Police—Sunday Law to Be Enforced.

Seven Missing Fraser River Boats Safe—An Interesting Budget From the Mines.

(Special to the Colonist.)

VANCOUVER.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10.—The existing insurance on city property could not be cancelled at rates suitable to the city, so the scheme of dividing the insurance amongst the different companies represented in the city equally, has had to be abandoned.

Inspector McLeod has forwarded his resignation to the licensing board. The different members expressed regret at losing Mr. McLeod, and gave him a recommendation for integrity and conscientious work which will far more than counterbalance the action of the majority of the council in dismissing him.

There are but two prisoners in the Vancouver lock-up, while for the past week there has been a series of blank dockets.

At the Vancouver building society drawing Charles Milne, the cyclist, drew a $2,000 appropriation. Mr. Milne left today for a three months' trip to Europe and the eastern states, taking with him his wheel.

From the present time all who keep their stores open for the sale of goods on Sundays will be proceeded against. Pending the test cases considerable latitude was allowed, but the law will now be strictly enforced.

Someone has discovered a sect in Vancouver who pray to the devil. The members of the sect reason that as God is all good he will do them no harm, and as his satanic majesty can harm them they pray to him for mercy.

Captain Mellon, Mrs. Mellon, Harry Mellon, Mrs. Tracey, Miss Tracey and Mr. Hill-Tout leave to-day for a pleasure trip down the coast on the twelve ton yacht Amelia.

Applications for the position of a fireman, chief of police and patrolman will be received for the next three weeks.

The market committee have decided to proceed against Mr. Beattie, lessee of the market, for rent in arrears and the repair of the building.

The city council has received word from the secretary of the British Columbia Board of Trade, asking them to send a cut of some part of the city suitable for use in their illustrated annual report, and to subscribe for a number of copies. The matter will be considered.

M. D. Keyser Verbrine, Victoria, is asking the council what inducements they will offer him to start a linseed meal mill in Vancouver, the mill to employ twenty hands and have a capacity of 50,000 lbs. of seed per twenty-four hours.

The scheme to guarantee interest for another electric light company who would supply cheap light to the city will probably be never carried out. The city solicitor has given it as his opinion that a by-law passed by the citizens whereby the city would be authorized to become a competitor with another existing company in lighting the city would be illegal according to the acts passed at the last legislature.

The crops at Chilliwack are reported A 1. Wheat, oats and peas look extremely well. The hay is all housed. Oats promise to yield from eighty to ninety bushels to the acre. Farmers are very cheerful and hope the abundant crops will amply repay them for their losses last year.

A large proportion of the butter manufactured at the Delta creamery is being shipped to Victoria, where it is said to be meeting with a free sale. The progress of the Delta creamery is being noticed by the farmers in all the other districts, and if it proves a genuine success other creameries will be established very shortly.

Comox Frank was committed for trial to-day, charged with the murder of another Indian named Jimmy Mitchell, whom he is alleged to have killed by striking him on the head with a stone. The Indians had been drinking heavily, and were fighting when the fatality occurred. The murdered man's wife was the principal witness, and told a straight story. Jimmy struck the first blow. The murder occurred on Denman Island.

Steamer Blond has returned safely from Rivers Inlet. Capt. DeBeck says they had a close call, the waves breaking completely over the steamer for three hours. In Fitzhugh sound the little steamer was attacked by a monster shark, 30 feet long, which turned on its back and struck the steamer a terrific blow, making it shiver from stem to stern. Once was enough for the shark.

WESTMINSTER.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Aug. 10.—The seven boats reported to be missing from the North Arm are all safe, the occupants having taken shelter from the storm at Plumper's Pass and blaine.

The authorities will take care of an old miner named Anderson who was brought down from Yale very ill.

Abundance of fine table vegetables were offered on the Westminster market yesterday. The display was one of the best in all lines seen for some time.

NANAIMO.

NANAIMO, Aug. 10.—A team of mules has been purchased by the Mineral Creek Mining company for work on their claims and sent up to Alberni.

George Goldsmith, charged at Union with fraudulently passing a $20 Confederate note and committed for trial, came down on the steamer Joan.

CLOVERDALE.

(From the Surrey Times.)

The moths of the tent caterpillar have been depositing unusual quantities of eggs on the fruit trees here during the past couple of weeks.

The weather during the past week has been dry and warm. Rain would be of considerable benefit to the growing crops, but the indications are that harvest will get here first. Many farmers in this vicinity will commence cutting next week.

The settlers of Hall's Prairie are making a stout effort to obtain shipping facilities at White Rock with Victoria. Recently Messrs. C. D. Mogridge and H. T. Thrift went to the Capital to try and interest prominent parties in the enterprise.

VERNON.

(From the News.)

Development work is being done at Camp Hewitt, and the proprietors of the Lake View are down some feet on the ledge, which has been won out. Mr. William Hutchinson, of Enderby, has received an assay, showing that some rock which he sent to be tested goes over $400 to the ton in gold. J. H. Christie came in this week and exhibited some remarkably rich specimens of gold-bearing quartz, but resists all interrogations as to whence he procured it. He thinks he is on the track of a cinnabar discovery.

George McCalla, of White Valley, has one of the best crops of wheat in this part of the country. He expects to harvest two tons for every 100 pounds of seed, and from 1,700 pounds sown he feels confident that he will obtain 35 tons of first class wheat.

H. Upple, of Enderby, had a field of some 18 acres of the finest wheat in the valley, which he was compelled to cut for hay, as the road to his place would not admit of taking in a binder or threshing machine.

The number of pre-emptions recorded at the government office during the month of July was 32. The total number of claims recorded at Camp Hewitt is 51.

Hardly a till in the city on being examined was found not to contain spurious pieces of metal, and it is evident that a successful attempt has been made to "shove the queer." The coin are of the issue of 1892.

KAMLOOPS.

(From the Inland Sentinel.)

J. H. Russell on Wednesday brought in a quantity of gold, got out of his claim on Tranquille creek. He has three men sluicing.

Work still goes on at the Mountain Whale, Adams Lake district, with a fine showing of ore. All the assessment work will be done this season, so that a Crown grant may be taken out.

C. L. McCammon sent out a party to prospect for gold on ground taken up by him a few weeks ago on Tranquille creek. If returns seem to justify the expenditure, the claim will probably be worked as a hydraulic.

J. B. Latremouille and others returned early in the week from a search for gold-bearing ground about twenty miles up Tranquille creek. They came upon some which had not been worked, but near which good prospects and some large nuggets had at one time been procured.

J. F. Smith and party left early on Wednesday morning for Tete Jaune Cache. There were eight men and 24 horses in all. A quantity of mica will be brought down, and other work done. During the past year there have been several inquiries about the property.

There are now two very fair assayer's plants in Kamloops. Mr. W. F. Wood has as a pastime labored at mineralogy, until now he has very complete appliances with which he has been experimenting on Homestake ore by cyanide tests. The Kamloops Mining & Development company has an assaying plant of larger capacity. With the examination of properties and testing specimens the company has been kept busy.

ROSSLAND.

(From the Rossland Miner.)

The Nickel Plate will be started up immediately, Walter McCune, of Salt Lake City, taking hold.

The owners of the Silverline are applying for a crown grant.

Steve Bailey has started operations on the Evening Star.

The price given for the Spotted Tail and Ida was $3,500 cash.

Mike Conway is getting some nice ore on the Alabama, a fraction which adjoins the Sunset.

The total shipments for July may be put down at 3,000 tons, of a value of $140,000.

Building operations are as active as ever in Rossland, and the sawmills have the greatest difficulty in keeping pace with the demand for lumber.

The shaft on the Evening Star, between the Iron Horse and the North Star, is reported to be full of ore which samples $66 to the ton.

McKeezie, McLean, Blackwood and partners have lately been doing some surface prospecting and have discovered the Homestake ledge on the Monday.

At Mike Flaherty's Gold Star, situated three miles north of the White Elephant, an open cut run in on the ledge for about 15 feet shows a face of nearly solid ore, a little quartz gangue being mixed through it.

Assays from a trace to $17.50 in gold have been found.

A. M. Leitch, just returned from the Boundary Creek country, says that for extent of country and showings of mineral the country rivals Trail Creek division. But very little development work has been done except on two claims in the Greenwood camp. Want of transportation is checking its development.

Bill Austin has just returned from a trip through the mountains from the north fork of Kettle river to the Arrow lake. When they reached the shore of the lake they were out of grub and had to make forty miles to Robson by swimming, rafting, climbing and wading without a bite to eat.

Ben. Fennell's group of claims are looking fine. The last assay had on the ore gave a return of $12.50 in gold to the ton. It is about 21 miles to these discoveries round by Trail, whereas by going from Rossland the distance cannot be much over nine miles.

The bottom of the main drift on the Columbia is all solid ore, and has been so for several feet, indicating that the top of the long sought ore chute has been struck. The breast and back of the tunnel show about three feet of dark arsenical iron, for which assays ranging all the way from $39 to $103 in gold have been obtained. It is the intention of the company to market the product as it is mined. The Columbia is on the same lead as the Kootenay, and surface showings, as well as later developments, indicate that these two claims will in a short time be shippers of whose output the camp may well be proud.

MIDWAY.

(From the Advance.)

A car of ore was shipped last week to Pentlton bound for the Tacoma smelter by Mr. Elliott and Messrs. Guess & White, of Fairview.

A sample car of ore will be sent to Tacoma shortly from the Buckhorn, Fairview. The Strathre Company, Fairview, have decided to sink a shaft on the south vein on the Brown Bear claim.

The Boundary Creek Mining Company commenced work on the Last Chance last week. Twelve men are employed on three shifts of eight hours.

George Boardley has made a strike which he considers to be "away up." The locator believes his claim will form the nucleus of a greater than Greenwood.

The largest number of claims recorded in one day was on Wednesday last, seventeen being the number.

Another rich strike has been made on the Smuggler, Fairview. About a week ago, however, it was decided to sink the shaft somewhat deeper, and as a result the vein widened out to four feet, the quartz changed somewhat its character, and what was formerly a good shipping ore assaying $100 to the ton when sorted, is now so much richer that free gold is often visible in the rock. Under the supervision of Mr. Smith, three shifts of men were set to work Monday last, and the work will be vigorously prosecuted.

This season's work on the Knob Hill, Greenwood Camp, was completed on Saturday.

day, and the showing at the bottom of the shaft is most promising.

Mr. McIntosh, the fortunate owner of the Winnipeg, Wellington Camp, has already sunk a shaft twenty-five feet deep on his property.

Fifteen acres of fine wheat as grown in any country is being harvested on Mr. Spraggett's ranch, Grand Prairie, Kettle River. This is the result of sowing Saskatchewan Life in the fall, which was seeded 60 pounds to the acre. As an object lesson we should say the result shows what can be done by light seeding and thorough cultivation.

AGAIN ON THE STUMP.

Mr. Laurier is in the field again. The success of his first meeting at Sorel is trumpeted forth throughout the length and breadth of the land. The Leader of the Opposition is always successful—at meetings—but somehow he has hitherto been signally unsuccessful at elections. People crowd to hear him because he is a delightful speaker. They admire his performances on the platform because they are artistic and because they are pleasing, but they do not follow his advice. The reason of this is not far to seek. Mr. Laurier is, oratorically and politically, sounding brass and tinkling cymbal, but when the music is heard its influence ceases.

How many converts, we should like to know, has Mr. Laurier made to his free trade theories; or rather, we should have said, how many are there who have heard his speeches who know what those theories are or where the accomplished and silver-tongued orator stands on the trade question?

The Manitoba school question is the subject of Mr. Laurier's discourse in his present expedition. Everyone knows how careful he has hitherto been not to commit himself to any decided or definite opinion on that important question. All his statements with regard to it have been either studiously ambiguous or qualified by some expression that took from them any force they might otherwise have had. We find from the telegrams that he is pursuing the same policy now. He finds fault with the course which the Government have pursued. They have not handled the question in the right way. Another mode of treating it would have been much better and would have led to more pleasant results. This is the easiest and cheapest kind of criticism. There is not a bar-room or street-corner politician who does not take precisely the same line. He does not word his criticisms and his censures so prettily as Mr. Laurier does, but the idea which he expresses is precisely the same. Criticism of this kind requires neither knowledge nor ability. Any man who possesses facility of expression and who is content to say a great deal without meaning anything in particular, can grind out any amount of such condemnation. What is required of a statesman in Mr. Laurier's position is something better and more useful and edifying than mere fault-finding. It is not enough for him to say that the Government have not done well in this Manitoba school business—any blatherskite could do that; it is for him to show how they could have done better. Before his condemnation of the Government's course can be accepted by intelligent and fair-minded men, he should be able to point out some way by which a settlement could be arrived at and all hurtful and disturbing agitation avoided. But this is exactly what Mr. Laurier does not do, and what it is evident he cannot do. The way in which he evades this reasonable demand is to assert that it is not his place to instruct the Government, but anyone who has the least discernment must see clearly that this is a shallow trick to hide his poverty of resource, to conceal from the people that he really has no policy, and that if he were in the Leader of the Government's place, if he did not do what the Government have done he would not know what in the world to do. This, we are fully convinced, is exactly the position in which, if the truth were known, he really stands. He has no policy except to dodge the issue and embarrass the Government if he can.

The Manitoba Question is, as Mr. Laurier admits, a most important question and exceedingly difficult of settlement. He occupies a very influential position in this country, and is supposed to have a great deal of influence with the French Canadians and with the Liberal party generally, yet what has he done to make the settlement of the question easy? Nothing whatever. On the contrary, he has done what lies in his power to complicate the question and to throw obstacles in the way of the parties concerned arriving at a good understanding. He says that he is opposed to coercion and is in favor of conciliation. Coercion, as coercion has been generally understood, has not been resorted to by the Government, and they are now and always have been in favor of conciliation. They have done nothing more in the matter than the law directs. They have not gone beyond it in the slightest degree in any single particular. Would Mr. Laurier have done differently if the duty of dealing with the case had fallen to his lot. He has taken very good care not to say whether he would or not. The leading Liberals have been as dumb as fishes in the matter. And they want the people of Canada to believe that this dumbness and trickiness generally is good policy and that statesmen do their duty when there is a great question before the country, in which the peace and welfare of the people are involved, when they act as players in a game of lacrosse. Mr. Laurier must get higher ideas of true statesmanship before the people of this Dominion will take him seriously and before they will entrust him with the direction of their public affairs.

THE "TIMES" ON COLONIAL TRADE.

The London Times discusses Lord Ripon's dispatches on the resolutions passed at the Ottawa Conference on the trade relations between the different parts of the Empire, with great ability and great fairness. It does not, like Lord Ripon, review the proposals of the Conference from the standpoint of an extreme free trader. It sees that there is much to recommend preferential trade between Great Britain and her Colonies to the statesmen of the Empire. It evidently believes that there is an element of uncertainty in the trade relations between Great Britain and almost all foreign nations, which is a great drawback to her commercial prosperity, and it seems to think that under a reciprocal trade arrangement between her and her dependencies there would be no such disheartening uncertainty. This is what the Times says:

Lord Ripon's remarks are in the main sensible. It is a pity, however, that, in dealing with a trade question, he should use language implying that the benefit of trade is enjoyed only by the exporting country, which obtains a market for its produce, and not by the importing country, which obtains more cheaply the necessities or luxuries which it receives. We do not suppose that he is really under the dominion of the theory which his words involve, but there is no reason why he should suffer himself to appear to be giving sanction to it, or should help it to pass current. Nor has Lord Ripon said anything on the chief advantage likely to result from the Ottawa proposals. We may grant that our colonial trade is not nearly equal in volume to our foreign trade, and that it is not likely to come up to it. But under a customs union it would possess one quality well worth considering—it would be more stable, for it would no longer depend on the whims and fancies of other countries, and would no longer be exposed to the influence of hostile foreign tariffs. As the case now stands, the two countries with which we have the largest trade are France and the United States. With France we have a commercial treaty which gives some fixity to our trade relations, but which, as experience shows, is in constant danger of being altered or denounced. With the United States our trade relations are much less certain. According as one or the other political party comes into power, the tariff is shifted about at pleasure, and, large as trade with the country is, it is wholly wanting in the more important quality of stability. The repeal of the McKinley tariff and the passing of the freer Wilson tariff are probably to be followed, as our New York correspondent has told us, by new changes in the direction of more protection. This means that such part of our manufacturers' fixed capital as has been employed for producing articles for export to the United States will become valueless in whole or in part, and that the workmen who have been engaged in the business will be thrown out of employment. It is useless to argue that these trade dislocations inflict most injury on the country which causes them. All that we need care to know is that they inflict very grave injury on ourselves, and that it would be worth our while to get rid of them at some loss to the mere volume of our trade. Possibly, too, it might tend to bring some foreign countries to their senses if they found us a good deal less dependent on their good will than we are. Such considerations as these are, of course, not the only ones which demand notice, but they are, we think, too important to be left out of account in striking a balance between the values of our foreign and of our colonial trades.

We trust that Canadian free traders will not accuse the Times of being unfaithful to British free trade because it sees that it is possible for Great Britain to gain advantages by placing some restrictions on commercial intercourse with foreign nations and extending some privileges to her own colonies and dependencies. Ardent free traders on this side of the Atlantic will, or we are greatly mistaken, be shocked and distressed to find that many able and eminent men in the Mother Country have fallen away from the free trade faith and are ready to adopt a commercial policy more favorable to British subjects than it is to the citizens of foreign nations.

THE BRITISH WAY.

The way in which the victorious party in England have decided to act with respect to the Speakership shows what a very wide difference there is between the feelings and the methods of British public men, and those of the Dominion of Canada or indeed any of the Colonies of the Empire. The Speakership of the House of Commons and of the Provincial Legislative Assemblies is considered in this country to belong of right to the victorious party. It is, we believe, the invariable custom after a general election to choose the Speaker from the ranks of the majority. It does not matter how able or how impartial the Speaker of the previous Parliament was, if the party to which he belonged had been defeated at the polls, the idea of placing him in the Speaker's chair when the new Parliament was being organized would never enter the mind of any member of the dominant party. If anyone should propose such a thing he would be set down as either an impractical political sentimentalist or a traitor to the party which had fought and won the battle at the polls. To give an opponent the honor and the power that attach to the Speaker's office would be regarded rather as an act of political insanity than as one of political prudence.

But the Speakership of the House of Commons in Great Britain is not looked upon as part of the spoils of victory. It seems to be regarded as a permanent office, and if a Speaker does his duty effectively and faithfully, he does not lose his office when the party to which he belongs is defeated at the polls. The theory is that the new Parliament has a perfect right to choose a new Speaker, but the practice is that the House in the exercise of that right chooses the member who in the late Parliament has performed the duties of the office to the satisfaction of its members, quite independently of his political principles and his party leanings. What the London Times says about the re-election of Mr. Gully shows very clearly how the Speakership is regarded by the members of the Imperial Parliament and by those who take an active part in Imperial politics. It is this:

If Mr. Gully had been rejected by his constituents at Carlisle, the field would have been clear, and the Unionists would have had a free hand in the choice of his successor. But he has retained his seat, and the Speaker of the last Parliament has, therefore, a place in the new one. No doubt the majority have the right as well as the power to disregard the election of Mr. Gully in April last, when the late Government, ignoring the traditions of Parliamentary life, stretched to the utmost the privilege of a narrow party majority, which did not represent the prevailing opinion of the country. They had due warning from the Leader of the Opposition that such a high-handed proceeding could not bind the new Parliament, and that the Unionists held themselves at liberty if they returned after the dissolution in predominate numbers to elect their own nominee as Speaker. It does not follow, however, that they should insist upon their rights. They are bound to exercise their power with a single-minded view to what is, on the whole, for the public advantage. There are strong reasons for holding that their wisest course would be that which would also be the most generous, namely, to strengthen and consecrate the traditional faith in the permanent and non-partisan character of the Speakership by proposing the re-election of Mr. Gully.

Mr. Gully has got to know the House, and the House has got to know him. He is too able a man not to have mastered already the principles at least of Parliamentary practice, and not to know in what spirit they ought to be applied. There is no reason to believe that he does not thoroughly and loyally acquiesce in the indispensable condition of the high office which he lately held, and which he again desires to fill, the renunciation of all party connexions and the suppression of all party sympathies.

Late advices show that the Times expressed in this matter the intentions and the convictions of the leading men of the majority of the House of Commons. The members composing this majority, though just from the polls and flushed with the victory won at them, are so moderate, so reasonable and so careful to preserve the wise and salutary traditions of Parliament as to choose an opponent, and one, too, elected to the Speakership but a few months ago in a way of which they did not approve, to preside over their deliberations.

WHERE IS YOUR NEXT SUIT OF CLOTHES COMING FROM?

IS THE GREAT QUESTION.

Where can I have a Suit made to order for the least money? You have asked yourself this question a great many times. All men do. The problem is centuries old; the query has been propounded in a hundred tongues, yet it is an open question in most men's minds to-day. Some of your neighbors have had this question answered to their entire satisfaction, and it is a good thing to know that

AUCTION SALES.

Aug. 12--Rugs, etc. H. Cuthbert & Co.
Aug. 14--Furniture, etc. H. Cuthbert & Co.
Aug. 15--Furniture. H. Cuthbert & Co.

A final auction sale of the collection of the Turkish rugs and carpets will be held to-morrow, Monday. The largest and finest carpets will be offered and a larger number of silk goods will be sold. Mr. Mihran finds that the expense in freight, etc., in taking his goods away would be so great that he will let them go regardless of cost. Those who have been prevented by other engagements from attending these sales should make a great effort to attend on Monday. Messrs. Cuthbert & Company are the auctioneers.

THE CITY.

It is probable that judgment in the Blythe case will be given to-morrow.

The public schools of the city and Collegiate Institute reopen at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The N. P. steamer Victoria, from the Orient, was reported at anchor in the straits last night.

"CORRESPONDENCE AND ANALOGY" is the subject announced for this evening's lecture of the Theosophical Society.

YESTERDAY was spent by the choir of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church in picnicking with their friends on the shores of Victoria arm.

A VERY pleasant garden party and dance was given in the extensive grounds of Mrs. R. J. Russell, Springfield House, Victoria West, on Friday evening.

MR. E. COLLIS, janitor of the South Park school, was yesterday the recipient of a handsome and curious walking stick purchased in Honolulu for presentation to him by the party of Victoria school teachers who have just returned from the islands.

THE gentlemen assisting in the choruses for the open air concert under the auspices of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian society are requested to meet for a special rehearsal to-morrow evening in the hall of the society on Blanchard street. Mr. Brown asks that the attendance be large and prompt.

BAD weather accounted for the non-arrival of the City of Puebla from San Francisco until last night. Strong northerly winds prevented speed being made, and when a short distance from the Cape a lay-off of several hours was necessitated by the fog, which further detained her. She brought freight consignments amounting to 130 tons for Victoria, and a fair number of passengers.

MR. TAPPAN ADNEY, of New York, is paying a visit to Victoria. While Mr. Adney is well known as an artist, he is also a regular contributor to St. Nicholas, the Harpers' publications and other American periodicals, so that although he is visiting friends here (having a sister at the Conservatory of Music) it is surmised that about Victoria and British Columbia generally there will be subjects both for pen and brush that he will make entertaining and useful. Mr. Adney is the illustrator of Chapman's Hand Book of the Birds of Eastern North America, just published by Appletons.

THE management of The Victoria have at last been able to secure for next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings the famous play of Denman Thompson's, "The Old Homestead." Since its inception many plays dealing with the unforgettable sin have flashed into instantaneous success, only to die out in a few months and be forever forgotten. For its commendation "The Old Homestead" has a simple story, simply told, but one which appeals to every heart, and above all it is clean and sweet. From the happy old farm it carries one into the great metropolis, but the odor of the hills still clings to the characters, and not a single disturbing thought mars the beauty and serenity of the whole. The glimpses of Grace church and the singing of "The Palms," serve to intensify the feeling of rest desired from being thrown in contact with the quaint and simple minded New England people. The scenes of farm life are all so natural, aided by the artist's brush, that one cannot but imagine oneself the guest of "Joshua Whitcomb" in his Swanzy home. The musical selections by the farm hands come as a grateful surprise, and give an insight to the happiness on the old farm. Like a blur on the picture comes the revelation of the waywardness of the farmer's boy, and tears mingle with those of the anxious father, and hearts rejoice again with him in his search rewarded. "The Old Homestead" preaches a sermon which has been indorsed by the clergy, and there is a motive for its every action. The story of the prodigal son is repeated, but not in a way that harrows the soul. It is glossed over by the unctuous humor and unconscious pathos of Uncle Josh, bringing relief to the tension of the heart strings, but the moral is still there.

The telegraph wires were deranged for a considerable part of yesterday and it was very late before press reports began to arrive.

The funeral of J. H. Muller, the victim of Friday's drowning accident, took place yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended.

The fire brigade turned out last night in answer to a telephonic call, and with the chemical assisted in extinguishing a small roof fire at 65 Fort street, A. P. Blyth's premises.

REV. PROFESSOR R. WHITTINGTON, principal of Columbia College, New Westminster, preaches both this morning and this evening at the Metropolitan Methodist church. The pulpit of the Centennial church will be occupied at all services by Rev. J. J. Colter, B.A., S.F.B., classical professor at Columbia College.

Geo. E. Fisher and other residents of Victoria owning property in Port Angeles intend to charter a steamer next Saturday, and as a deputation meet the Port Angeles Board of Equalization, as they consider the assessment too high. Mr. Fisher will give all necessary information at the Elk, corner of Douglas and Pandora streets.

YESTERDAY morning Lottie, daughter of Mr. Hugh O'Neill, died at her father's residence, 207 Douglas street. For a long time she had suffered with paralysis of the heart, which finally resulted fatally. The deceased had many friends, and until ill health compelled her to give up her position as a prominent and popular member of the Metropolitan Methodist church choir.

THE garden party and summer fair to be held at 4 Belleville street, James Bay, will no doubt attract a large number of people, to whom the beautiful grounds will be thrown open on Tuesday afternoon. There will be a sale of fancy and plain work; also numerous games, including "Old Aunt Sally," archery and other amusements dear to the hearts of children. Ice cream and tea, etc., will be served for the small sum of ten cents, while admission to the grounds has been placed at twenty-five cents—including the fine exhibition of goloxinas and begonias. The excellent band of the B. C. B. G. A. will play in the grounds all afternoon.

COLONEL STITT and party, of the Salvation Army, who are visiting this continent in the interests of General Booth's colonization scheme, reached Victoria on the Charming last evening, and were met at the wharf by the Army band and escorted to the barracks, where a special and appropriate service was held. To-day special meetings will be held at 7 a.m., 11 a.m., 3 p.m., and 7 p.m. The party, who have been referred to many times as expert land prospectors, are here for the purpose of looking at provincial lands as proposed sites for the army colony. It is not known yet where the party will go from here, but it is understood that after viewing some Vancouver island districts they will leave for the upper country.

At St. Andrew's R. C. cathedral to-day at the morning service the choir will sing the new mass which has been under rehearsal for some time, La Hache's "Missa Pro Pace." At the offertory "Mr. F. Lang will sing 'O Salutaris,' by the composer of the mass. At the 7 o'clock evening service a good programme will be given. During the collection, Mr. Pratt, a new acquisition to the choir, and who last Sunday drew so much attention by his fine, sweet voice, will sing "Jerusalem" by Henry Parker. "O Salutaris," by Wiegand, will be given by the choir, and "Ave Maria," by Saint Seance, tenor solo by Mr. Lang. Last Wednesday evening the members of the choir presented Mr. Lombard, the conductor of the choir, and Mrs. Lombard with a very flattering address, accompanied by a beautiful oak arm chair, as a token of appreciation of their services. The affair was quite a surprise to Mr. and Mrs. Lombard, expressed their grateful thanks.

Close of the Tennis Tournament.
Foulkes Retaining the Championship
—Amities Lose to Nanaimo.

The Triangles at Home and on the Fraser—Many Minor Events.

The ninth annual tournament of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club was brought to a close yesterday afternoon, and proved to be the most successful meeting in the club's history. The day's play consisted, with the exception of one set in the mixed doubles (open) of the final rounds of the open events. The ladies and gentlemen's doubles (handicap) will be continued on Monday afternoon; the secretary will endeavor to notify the players previously.

The first match of yesterday was the ladies' singles between Miss Anderson, (Tacoma S.L.T.C.) and Miss M. Goward of Victoria. Miss Anderson won the first set, with a score of six games to four; after changing over, her opponent took the second and third, 6-4, 6-0, thus winning the match.

Messrs. Cuppage and Foulkes then battled against Messrs. R. E. Barkley and C. R. Longe; the former even tually carried the match, after five good sets, which occupied nearly three hours, the scores being 5-7, 9-7, 4-6, 6-3, 6-2. There was immense enthusiasm over this match.

Without any delay Miss C. Powell and G. V. Cuppage played Miss Goward and A. T. Goward for a place in the finals, the first and second sets having been finished Friday, when each side scored a set. The winners were Miss Goward and her brother, G. V. Mrs. Bramson and H. Combe played against Miss M. Goward and A. T. Goward in the ladies and gentlemen's doubles, open, the result being 6-4, 2-6, 6-0 in favor of the first named pair.

The ladies' doubles between Miss Anderson and Miss Keown on one side and Mrs. Burrill and Miss Kershaw on the other, was exceedingly well contested, no fewer than 35 games being played. The match commenced whilst the finals of the mixed doubles was going on, and was not concluded until some time after the championship singles. Mrs. Burrill and Miss Kershaw came out ahead with a very small majority, 6-8, 6-3, 7-5.

The match in the singles between J. F. Foulkes and H. Combe was the main attraction of the afternoon, the championship of British Columbia depending upon the result. Combe played a splendid game, his deadly cuts bringing rounds of applause from the 450 spectators. Foulkes also was in good form and succeeded in retaining his hold of the championship. The scores were 2-6, 6-2, 6-2, 6-4 in Foulkes' favor.

At the conclusion of the matches Mrs. Pooley very kindly gave away the prizes to the successful players, and the Hon. Mr. Justice Drake in a short but happy speech thanked the visitors from Tacoma and other parts for their attendance, which undoubtedly was the key to the unparalleled successful tournament. He also referred most fittingly to the services of the secretary and the able rulings of Canon Beauland as chief scorer. Mrs. Pooley then presented testimonials, the gift of the members of the club, to Canon Beauland and Mr. E. A. Jacob, who made suitable and feeling responses. Cheers for the visitors, and Mrs. Pooley brought the programme to a close.

A REVERSE FOR THE AMITIES.

NANAIMO, Aug. 10.—(Special)—The league game between the Amities and the Nanaimos this afternoon attracted the largest gathering of the season. Both teams settled down in good earnest and the game was contested with snap and spirit. In the third innings Lenfesty was batted for six hits, which, with errors, yielded six runs, none of which, however, were earned. The Amities scored two in the sixth and three in the seventh, and it looked as if the visitors would pull the game out of the fire. In the sixth Franklin was substituted for Lenfesty in the box, but the Nanaimo batters profited by the change, earning four runs in the sixth and seventh.

Both Lenfesty and Franklin were discomfited by the way in which the umpire favored the opposing batmen. The defeat of the Amities was largely due to this fact. King, who pitched for Nanaimo, was in the box against Victoria in the first Seattle game at Victoria this spring. He struck out fourteen of the Amities and kept them down to eight hits. The Nanaimos made eleven hits, including one triple off Lenfesty, in five innings, and five hits including two triples off Franklin in three innings.

A FORTUNATE ESCAPE.

al classes from America, the new republic being desirous of obtaining this material for the upbuilding of the islands commercially. The Hawaiian islands have already too large a population of natives and Orientals, according to Mr. Castle's view, and the recent liberalizing of the land laws has for its object the securing of a counter-balancing population of energetic white men. The latest gossip political has its origin in the claim upon the Republic of Hawaii made a fortnight or so ago by the resident representative of the United States on behalf of one Darrell, an American citizen. This has been formally acknowledged and the merits of the case will be gone into at once, Mr. Castle taking it up at Washington immediately upon his arrival there, via Glacier, Regina and Chicago, at each of which places he and his party will break their journey. Darrell was one of the unfortunate thrown into jail at Honolulu on the occasion of the abortive Royalist uprising. The government believe and maintain that they had ample justification for pursuing the course which they did. Darrell says not, and demands indemnity in the amount of $25,000. "Even admitting that he had some claim against the government," says Mr. Castle, "the sum he names is out of all proportion. He was a hack driver, I think, and the loss of his business interests, which he puts forward, would scarcely amount to anything like the value he alleges."

Other claims for damages are spoken of, to the amount of upwards of $250,000, but not as yet presented, the majority being those of alleged British subjects who seek indemnification for wrongful arrest and imprisonment without trial. Darrell was not a victim of deportation, although he makes his claim for damages from San Francisco. He was a voluntary passenger to that city, and does not stand upon the same ground as Messrs. Johnston, Mueller and Cranston. The progress of the suit instituted by these gentlemen against the Canadian-Australian steamship line, who are backed by the government of President Dole, is naturally watched with keenest interest by the people of Honolulu.

Hon. Mr. Cleghorn, who is known to fame as the father of the Princess Kaiulani, is on his way to England via New York, and will meet his daughter in London. There future plans are entirely unsettled owing to the disturbed condition of political affairs at the islands, which will prevent their return to Honolulu for an indefinite period. Naturally Mr. Cleghorn is dissatisfied with the present administration of Hawaiian affairs. He blames the United States wholly and solely for the establishment of the present "military despotism," and with the other friends of Hawaiian royalty looks to the United States to undo the wrong that has been done and clear that nation's character from reproach. Hon. Mr. Cleghorn does not believe that if a free and secret ballot were taken of the entire population of the islands, one-tenth, if that proportion, would declare in favor of the Republican government. The latter are clinging to power by the law of force and the dissatisfaction is in consequence growing daily. The Hawaiian Queen and people look to the people of the United States for the remedy—the former from her palace-prison, where she is still held fast as a person whose liberty would endanger the safety of her native land, the land over which she formerly ruled.

Major J. H. Wodehouse is returning to England with Mrs. and Miss Wodehouse, having been retired from the diplomatic service owing to advancing years. His successor, Consul-General Howes, who also holds rank as British Commissioner, has already assumed office, and Major Wodehouse remained in Honolulu only long enough to see the machinery of the consulate running properly under the new administrative head. During his thirty years of active experience in various posts of diplomatic importance, Major Wodehouse has won high distinction by his ability and discretion at most critical periods; his conduct at Honolulu during the establishment of the republic was noteworthy in this regard, yet when he was leaving the islands and requested permission to call and take his leave of the imprisoned ex-Queen, that permission was refused by Minister Hatch. The reason assigned was that Major Wodehouse had in his dealings with the new government displayed both hostility and contempt, and that when free from the obligations of his diplomatic position, he was not regarded as above interesting himself in the ex-Queen's behalf. The friction between the Hawaiian government and the retiring representative at Honolulu of Her Majesty's government was intensified by the fact that Major Wodehouse did not pay a formal visit of farewell to the Hawaiian foreign office and in other ways—according to President Dole and his ministry—made it very evident that he retained his poor opinion of the government of the islands to the moment of his departure. It was in view of these strained relations that President Dole felt it incumbent upon him to decline an invitation to be present at the banquet tendered by the British vice-consul and residents in honor of the retiring ambassador.

The government of Hawaii, according to the passengers just arrived from Honolulu, still pin their faith to annexation by the United States. One of the latest acts of the legislature was the adoption, on the 20th July, of the following resolution, the contents of which the new minister to the United States is requested to bear constantly in mind: "Resolved, that the senate and house of representatives of the Republic of Hawaii hereby declare now fealty to the policy of the annexation of this country to the United States of America. Resolved, that we put forth the sentiment in the firm belief and sincere hope that all who have the true interests of the nation at heart and that all who support or are friendly to the Republic of Hawaii will be impelled to even greater continued effort to bring about the relation sought."

Among the other notable passengers from Hawaii by the just arrived steamer were Messrs. C. L. Wright and W. G. Barnfield. The former is president and manager of the Wilder Steamship Co., of Honolulu, a corporation which enjoys a monopoly of a considerable proportion of the carrying trade to the islands; the latter is better known than by name as Sequah, the great travelling exponent of the marvellous merits of Sequah's Oil for all ailments to which the flesh is heir. He is a well educated, gentlemanly Englishman travelling for the Sequah Medicine Co. of London, a big concern with a thorough belief in the unique value of the Sequah medicine, from which the merits of the steamer at the expounded, was landed from the steamer at Victoria and will no doubt soon make its appearance on the streets.

"Sequah" himself will only remain a short time—long enough to deliver a few lectures and establish an agency such as those he has already planted in Burmah, India, Borneo, Australia, Hawaii, China, Japan—in fact all centres of population in the civilized, semi-civilized and uncivilized world.

The other travellers whose names appear upon the passenger list are: Misses Haycroft, Simpkinson, Bower, and Becker; Messdames Moxey, Nicholson, Deponten, Coudery and boy, Birnfield, Pollock, McLean, Moore, and Becker; Messrs. Taylor (2), Moxey, Nicholson, Buxton, Barbour, Gardiner, Beith, Deane, Coudery, Kemper, Calais, Deliz, Remschell, Muholland, Atkinson, Gemmell, Stokes, Clements, Leno, Chander, Pollock, McLean, Bridle, O'Connor, Ketchum, Binder, Mahrt, Becker (2), Tottenham, Legge, Newman, Flood, and Shaw.

SHIPS AND SHIPPING.

Close of the Alaskan Excursion Season—Steamer Queen Afterwards to Return to San Francisco.

To-day the steamer Queen will leave here on her last excursion trip of the season. Upon her return to the Sound from Alaska she will probably load coal and then proceed to San Francisco, there to lay up or enter upon a different line of work. All her excursions thus far this year have been very popular, the Eastern tourist business having been particularly good. The Topeka will continue on the Alaska route in opposition to the Willapa. Competition between these vessels is very warm at present and it has been already officially announced that out rates heretofore in vogue on the Topeka will continue for at least another trip. She will leave here about the 21st inst., and round trip tickets for this voyage will be sold at $30.

MARINE NOTES.

For the voyage to San Francisco on the steamship Umatilla, which sails this evening, the following passengers have been ticketed: J. Miller, R. J. Baker, Miss L. Peckham, Miss Blanche E. Portel, Miss Miller, Mrs. J. G. Gibson, Miss S. McNiff, Mrs. D. F. Mahoney, Miss A. McIntosh, Mrs. G. G. Meldrum, A. S. Cartmel, C. H. Kitchie and wife, and F. Clyde.

The steamer Coquitlam comes off Turpel's marine ways at noon to-day, and afterwards proceeds to Departure Bay for coal for Juneau, Alaska. She will go North in command of Capt. H. R. Foot, who has been engaged for the trip by the Union Steamship Co.

Steamer Maude sailed for West Coast points last evening with a fair freight and numerous passengers, several of whom were bound for Port San Juan.

The Norwegian ship Prince Amadeo, 135 days out from Rio de Janeiro, arrived yesterday and will load lumber at Hastings. The Danish bark Cimbra towed to sea yesterday. She had on board $12,441 worth of lumber.

THE Insurance Murders.

CHICAGO, Aug. 10.—The pick of a workman in Holmes' castle uncovered a strange construction last night, which carried more terrible suggestions of the conspirator's work. In a closet room on the second floor, where Holmes used to sleep, there is a gas pipe running over the floor, and beneath the boards is a cut-off pipe which runs directly to the windowless room. Here it is believed Mrs. Connor was murdered. The cut-off is believed to be one of Holmes' methods of death. Sitting in his room he could turn on a current that would asphyxiate the occupants. The cut-off was secret. It was reached simply by lifting the door of the closet.

"Canst thou minister to a mind diseased?" asks Macbeth. Certainly, my Jord; the condition of the mind depends largely, if not solely, on the condition of the stomach, liver, and bowels, for all of which complaints Ayer's Pills are "the sovereign thing on earth."

VISITING VICTORIA.

The Vice-President of the United States and His Party Arrive From the East.

They Leave To-Day by the Queen on a Pleasure Trip to Alaska.

The Vice-President of the United States, Adlai E. Stevenson, is in town. He is on his way to Alaska and is accompanied by Mrs. Stevenson, his daughters Miss Letitia and Miss Julia Stevenson, and his brothers J. C. Stevenson and W. C. Stevenson. The party on their arrival from Vancouver by the Chamer last evening were met on landing by General Roberts, United States consul, and immediately drove to the Drild, where they stay until the Queen, on which they have taken passage, sails for Alaska to-day. Vice-President Stevenson again stated emphatically last night that his trip is simply one of pleasure. He had never been to Alaska and wished to see that country, of which so much has been heard of late years.

"We have come straight from our home in Bloomington, Illinois," he remarked, "and did not stop anywhere on the way to Vancouver."

The party came over the C. P. R. and had a fine opportunity of seeing the prairies and farms of the Northwest Territories. The Vice-President expressed himself as highly pleased with the fine country through which he had passed. It is two years since he was in Victoria last, and this time he has a little more leisure to devote to sight-seeing than during his hurried trip on the preceding occasion. Last evening was spent in driving about the city, and to-day General Roberts will entertain the Vice-President and his party at dinner.

The distinguished visitor and party will join with the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church at this morning's service.

THE SOCIETIES.

Lodge Meetings, Lodge Work and Lodge Socials Under Lodge Auspices.

It has been definitely decided that the operetta, "The Four Leaved Clover," will be produced in A.O.U.W. hall on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, August 21 and 22. The management are sparing no effort and no expense to make the performance a perfect success; there are forty members in the chorus, and are all well trained in stage work as well as in the music. Fourteen little girls from six to eight years of age will give a tambourine song and dance, which is sure to please, and the managers announce that "Senorita Juanita," a charming little dancer from San Francisco, will also make her first appearance before a Victoria audience in many of the latest fancy dances during the intervals of the opera.

As only a limited number of tickets have been issued for the I.O.O.F. excursion to Tacoma on Saturday next, so as to prevent overcrowding, all intending participants should secure their tickets as soon as possible. More pains have been taken with this excursion than with any previous one, both for the entertainment and comfort of those going, and the officers of the Kingston promise to put her through at top speed. The staterooms were all sold in a short time last evening.

Triumph lodge, I. O. G. T., held their weekly meeting Thursday, at which one candidate was initiated. A very warm address was delivered by Bro. Gilchrist, G. C., after which the following programme was given: Piano solo, Bro. Andrews; song, Bro. Culpin; recitation, Sister Whitler; song, Bro. Channings; pianoforte duet, Sisters Clarke and Isbiater; song, Bro. Griffin; duet, Sister Newbigging and Bro. Moody; and song, Bro. Carlisle.

A social and dance will be given by the Daughters of England in their hall, View street, on Tuesday evening next. A good orchestra has been secured for the occasion.

Colfax Rebekah Degree lodge, No. 1, expect a large attendance at their regular meeting on Tuesday, when the "beautified work" will be exemplified.

The members of L.T.B. lodge No. 37 announce an ice cream social for the evening of the 21st, for which arrangements are already well advanced.

The Companions of the Forest meet tomorrow evening, and after business hours the officers will give a social for members only.

Loyal Dauntless lodge, C.O.O.F., will hold their regular meeting on Tuesday evening next.

Loyal Occidental lodge, I.O.O.F., M.U., meets Wednesday evening.

BICYCLE STEERING.

TO THE EDITOR:—I was walking leisurely along this afternoon on the Oak Bay road. A tramcar was passing at this particular time I refer to, when to my utter astonishment I was charged into from behind by a bicycle ridden by one of the weaker sex and half knocked over. I fell on to her machine and so saved myself, but at the expense of a torn coat. Of course I naturally was annoyed, and then she said, "Oh, but I rang my bell." But ringing a bell was not of much use when a noley cart was going by. Anyway, the road, and it is a wide one, was quite clear of any obstacle, and she ought to have gone to the other side of the road, but I presume she had no control over her machine. And then she said in the excitement of the moment, "Oh, but I knocked a girl down the other day." I suppose she intended to comfort me, as much as to say, Well, you may think yourself lucky. I remember seeing in Regent street, London, about two years ago, a bicyclist knock a man clean over, and he did go a cropper on the wooden pavement; but the ubiquitous bobby was on hand at once and collared the bicycle man. He was brought up before the police magistrate and fined £20, and I say serve him right. Now that this bicycling is catching on, and it is only commencing as yet, there ought to be some strict laws made, regulating the pace, carelessness in driving, etc.

Nervous debility is a common complaint, especially among women. The best medical treatment for this disorder is a persistent course of Ayer's Sarsaparilla to cleanse and invigorate the blood. This being accomplished, nature will do the rest.

YACHTING.

YESTERDAY'S RACE.

A splendid breeze sprang up yesterday afternoon and so enabled those competing in the half raters' race to gauge the capabilities of their respective boats. The yachts were started off promptly on time and kept pretty well together until passing the light-house in the outer harbor when the Plunger took the lead. Both the Plunger and the D. Brah kept well off to the leeward of the Pedro; the Viola made a series of tacks out until off Macaulay point and then she ran down to the Pedro to the windward. The Plunger finished first, Viola second, and the Deborah third.

THE WHEEL.

A TIME MEET.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 10.—(Special).—The bicycle meet at Brockton Point yesterday was a very tame affair. The entries from Victoria and Nanaimo did not turn up.

J. Pugh won the one mile novice, Shiles of Westminster second and Spain third.

Shiles would have won this race if he had not steered badly. Time, 2:44. Half mile open: Barker first, Emanuel second.

Time, 1:14. The riders were warned by Referee Fullerton about looking back at the racers behind them, with the result that in the three-eighths mile open, Franklin, who came in second, was disqualified; Baker won, coming in first, and Stark was given second place; time, 1:01. In the one mile handicap Pugh (100 yards), came in first, and Martin (100 yards) second, Baker on scratch not being able to make up the hundred yards.

In the two mile handicap Emanuel (100 yards) won; Franklin (175 yards) second, and Barker third. Franklin was disqualified for looking back, giving Barker second place; time 5:22 1/5. In the one mile, boys under 16, Hadden and Gregory, of Westminster, entered. Hadden won in 2:52. In the three mile handicap, Barker (scratch) won, but was disqualified for looking back. The first prize went to Pugh (275 yards), and second to Franklin (250 yards).

HERE AND THERE.

Richards and Miss Richards, of Maryland; Mrs. Fowles, of Washington, D.C.; Miss Graves and Mr. Hopkins, of Seattle; Mrs. Viole, of Genesee, N.Y.; and Col. and Mrs. Manamara, of St. Paul, Minn., are a party of Americans visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. CLARKE BAILEY.

Society Wedding at St. George's, Hanover Square, London, of a Former Resident of Lulu Island.

Sir Phillip Houghton Clarke, Bart., late Captain 9th Lancers, and a resident of Lulu Island and Victoria from 1862 until 1874, was quietly married in London on July 24, at St. George's, Hanover square, to Miss Rose Drummond Bailey, daughter of Captain Charles Drummond Bailey, J. P., of Charlton, Musgrove, Somerset, and of Mrs. Bailey, 40 Burnswick Terrace, Brighton. The matter is of interest to many of the old residents of Victoria, to whom Sir Phillip Clarke was so well and favorably known, but some additional interest is given by the fact that the bridegroom's nephew, Lord Sherard, Commander R. N. (retired), also served in British Columbia waters, and the bride was a nephew serving at present on H.M.S. Wild Swan, Lieutenant Wm. Church, R. N. The Lord Bishop of Columbia (Right Rev. Dr. Perrin), had arranged to officiate and unite the couple in holy wedlock, but owing to a mistake as to date His Lordship did not return from Switzerland until the day after the marriage. The bride was married in a dark lemon-colored crepon dress, with hand and collar of dark velvet edged with gold braid and bodice of the same material ornamented with rich lace, in front of which was placed a large diamond brooch. She also wore a neat bonnet of petunia straw, ornamented with petunia flowers, en suite. The attendance at the church was small, being confined exclusively to relations and close friends of the bride and bridegroom. Lord Wallcourt, late Captain Coldstream Guards, acted as best man, and Major Ambrose, brother-in-law of the bride, gave her away. The wedding breakfast was held at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Burbridge, 21 Cornwall Terrace. Only twenty-four guests sat down, of whom the following constitute the list: Lieut. General Erskine S. Jackson, Rear-Admiral Edmund J. Church, R. N., and Mrs. Jackson (superintendent Devonport dockyard), Major Ambrose and Mrs. Ambrose—the above named being brothers-in-law and sisters of the bride—Lord Sherard, Commander R. N., nephew of the bridegroom, and Lieut.-Colonel A. J. Gordon Kane, of Victoria, B. C. (who, as the oldest friend of the bride and bridegroom, proposed the health of the newly married couple), Lord Wallcourt, Lord and Lady Sherborne, Lady Helen Stewart, Lady Mary Bertie, Colonel and Hon. Mrs. Brown, Lady Seymour, Sir Edward A. and Lady Hamilton, Lady Palliser and Miss Palliser, Miss Daisy Jennings, Dr. I. W. Powell, of Victoria, and others. The honeymoon will be spent at Brighton and Cowes, Isle of Wight. Sir Phillip and Lady Clarke are expected to pay a visit to Victoria during the coming winter as the guests of Colonel Kane and family.
